Jessie Mathew Keep talking! I am done talking!

I will tell you this, some of you are clearly not using any good sense by attacking David Hamilton. If you already know that he allegedly has an assault charge for kicking someone's butt at an abortion clinic, why would you even think to provoke him? That is not the smartest thing to do. None of you know him like that, to behave in that manner towards him. You read the alleged charges. I would not mess with someone who has that kind of potential and not know them.

Not smart at all!

Some of you are mad because deep down (like a former trustee) you want to be his side chick and have abortions. This is what this is all about.

We honestly need the strong and emotionally balanced men in this community who are NOT willing to appease women to step up and LEAD in every aspect of this county.

Not always. I am sure many men would be insulted by this. Women can't teach a boy how to be man because they are not a man. A woman can't teach a boy a man's responsibilities.

Many men who come from single family households are either abusers or gay because their mothers didn't know how to talk them. Many of these women didn't have men who were leaders in their lives to teach them how to speak and respect their sons. So many men feel emasculated resulting in a lot of young men being angry with unchecked violent tendencies or they take on the role of women because they were never taught their role or felt that being a woman is the only form of empowerment.
